LINCOLN COUNTY, MAINE, PETITIONS.

William Blake Trask, A. M., of Dorchester, communicated to the New England Historical and Genealogical Register (April, 1890) a "Petition of the Inhabitants of Kennebec River for Protection," dated April 22, 1755, which contains substantially the same names as the first of the two petitions here printed. As there are several names in each petition not found in the other, and as they differ in date nearly three years, it has been thought advisable to print the earlier petition here in full, with rules to indicate the position of the signatures by pages.

The first of the petitions which follow is not dated, but the reference to the date of the first in the second ("in Nov^{r}: 1752"), and the action of the House of Representatives on November 28, 1752, establish its place chronologically as fully two and one-half years earlier than the petition published in the Register.

The second petition here printed differs from the others widely in the names of its signers. The three petitions probably contain the signatures of a large majority of the adult male inhabitants of that part of York County which was incorporated July 21, 1760, as Lincoln County. The signatures are arranged in two columns in the first petition, and in three in the second.

Province of the Massachusetts Bay } To the Honourable Spencer Phips Esqr. Lieutenant Governour and Commander in Chief in and over s^{d} Province. To the Honble: his Majesty's Council for the same & the Honourable House of Representatives ——

Humbly Shew

The Proprietors of that Tract of Land lying on Both sides of Kennebeck River which was granted to the late Colony of New Plymouth in their Charter & afterwards by that Colony granted to Antipas Boys & others Together with Sundry of the Principal Settlers & Residents within the Limits of said Tract ——

That the Inhabitants of said Tract had formerly the Privilege of holding a Court within that District & were vested with a peculiar Jurisdiction of matters arising among them in Subordination to the Government of the late Colony of New Plymouth that of Later Times the Courts of Justice held in and for the County of york have exercised Jurisdiction not only over your Petitioners Tract afor^{d}. but also over all Lands lying to the Eastward thereof to the utmost Limits of this Province Eastward but how or by what Law they became possessed of that Jurisdiction Your Petitioners could never yet be able to Discover That the great Distance that Suitors, Witnesses & Jurors have to Travel from said Tract to York together with the Badness & Danger of the Roads thither are a great Difficulty and Burden to your Petitioners the Settlers on said Tract which together with the perplexity arising from the Doubtfullness of such Courts Jurisdiction over them and Danger that the Judgements obtained in such Courts in Local Actions arising among them may some time or other be called [264] in Question and Reversed are a great Discouragement to your Petitioners in their Settlement and that it would very much Facilitate and Promote the further peopling and Improving said Tract and Render the Expensive Efforts of your Petitioners the Proprietors to Settle the same more Successful if said District was erected into a Distinct County Your Petitioners therefore pray your Honour and the Honourable Houses would please to take the premises into your wise Consideration and make your Petitioners Tract afor^{d}. a Distinct and Seperate County with the usual Privileges and Jurisdictions of a County or otherwise relieve your Petitioners upon the premises as Your Wisdom shall Direct and Your Pet^{rs}: &c

[207] Governour and Commander in Chief in & over His Majestys Province of the Massachusetts Bay and the Honourable the Council & Honourable House of Representatives. The Memorial of

Humbly Sheweth

That a great number of the Inhabitants of the County of York to the Eastward of North Yarmouth, petitioned the Great & General Court in Nov^r: 1752. to be formed into a Distinct & Seperate County, for the reasons in said Petition mentioned, which Petition as we are inform'd was revived in Feb^y: 1760. and then refered together with a Petition from Falmouth for a New County to the next May Sessions your Memorialists having long experienced the great charge inconvenience & hardship of attending upon Courts at a Distance.

Humbly pray your Honours that a New County may be formed in the Easterly part of the County of York to be bounded on the West by a line to run from some part of Casco=Bay to Amorescoggin River and from thence by Amorescoggin River and all that part of the Province which lies to the Eastward of such a line may be included in said New County; and that Pownallborough may be the Shire or County Town, and have the Priviledge of being Represented at the General Court, all which will greatly accommodate the Inhabitants and have a great tendency to incourage the Growth & Settlements of that part of the Province.

BOOK NOTES.

The English Ancestry of Reinold and Matthew Marvin of Hartford, Ct., 1638 Their Homes and Parish Churches By William T. R. Marvin, A. M., Member N. E. Hist. Gen. Society ..... Privately printed. Boston. 1900. 8vo. pp. 184. For sale by T. R. Marvin & Son, 73 Federal Street, Boston. Price $3.00, strictly net. Sent prepaid on receipt of $3.15.

This is the result of a search in English original records in 1897–99; the author gives particulars of seven generations in England; he has established the birthplace of the brothers from whom the New England Marvins were descended, and located the estate of their father, so that one who visits the Parish can identify the lands he once owned and the spot where he lived. The Registers of the Church, telling of the baptisms of the emigrants and their children, are still preserved; these, with other Registers consulted, and Wills, make the foundation of the work, which contains seventeen Marvin Wills (1475–1622), with abstracts of nine others of members of allied families (mostly daughters' husbands), including those of the grandfather, father, and other relatives of the emigrants, copied verbatim et literatim from originals or official records never before printed. These give the names of residences and estates once owned by Marvins, and often the names of their tenants. The author states that each Parish named in the Wills was visited if its Register was old enough to give light. In one of these, families bearing the name are living to-day. Descriptions of their ancient Churches and the names of their Clergy and other historical facts are given. The volume has two maps — photogravures of those in Camden's Britannia — one with notes added to show localities of Marvin homes; a view of the Church where Reinold and Matthew were baptized, of the Green near by, and the Church in a neighboring Parish where their grandfather lies buried, from photographs. It is fully indexed, printed on antique deckle-edge paper, and is bound in buckram. *

Early Records of Baptisms, Marriages, Deaths, and Membership of the Congregational Church, East Hampton, (Chatham,) Conn. Middletown, Conn. 1900. 8vo. pp. 76. For sale by M. L. Roberts, 92 DeWitt St., New Haven, Conn. Price, $1.00.

This pamphlet is a reprint from the History of East Hampton Congregational Church. It includes pages 77 to 150 of that volume, the same pagination being retained in the reprint. It contains Rev. John Norton's record of births, baptisms, marriages, deaths, and admissions from 1764 to 1771; Rev. Lemuel Parsons's record of baptisms, marriages, and deaths from 1779 to 1790; Rev. Joel West's record of baptisms, marriages, and deaths from 1792 to 1826; and various lists of members compiled by Martin L. Roberts, which contain considerable genealogical data. Rev. John Norton's records covering the period from 1772 to 1778 are supposed to have been destroyed by fire. Dr. Edward E. Cornwell of Brooklyn now has possession of that part of the original record of Rev. Mr. Norton printed in this pamphlet.

Rev. Dudley Woodbridge his Church Record at Simsbury in Conn., 1697–1710. Published with prefatory notes by Albert C. Bates Librarian Connecticut Historical Society. Hartford. 1894. 8vo, pp. 32. Edition, 100 copies.

About ten years ago the attention of a Middletown antiquarian was called to an old and badly tattered manuscript which on account of its venerable appearance had escaped the fate of its companions, consignment to the paper mill. This manuscript proved to be the Rev. Dudley Woodbridge's Record of the Church at Simsbury which had been missing for many years. The church, having recovered the record, permitted Mr. Albert C. Bates, librarian of the Connecticut Historical Society, to transcribe and publish it. The record comprises the church covenant, and admissions and baptisms from November 10, 1697 to February 12, 1709–10. Many of the baptismal records contain also the date of birth. Mr. Bates presents valuable biographical memoranda relating to Rev. Dudley Woodbridge in his prefatory notes and completes the work with a good full-name index. Every page of this pamphlet bears evidence of the most painstaking care in the transcription and the proof-reading.

A Brief Account of the Ancestry and Descendants of William Bedlow Crosby, of New York, and of Harriet Ashton Clarkson, his wife. By Ernest Howard Crosby. Reprinted from the New York Genealogical and Biographical Record for October, 1898, January, April and July, 1899. 4to, pp. 24.

William Bedlow (5) Crosby was descended from Simon (1) Crosby who died at Cambridge, Mass., in September, 1639. The line of descent was through Joseph (2) Crosby of Braintree who married Sarah Brackett; Major Joseph (3) Crosby, Jr., of Braintree who married Ann Belcher; and Dr. Ebenezer (4) Crosby, who married Catharine Bedlow of New York.

Harriet Ashton (5) Clarkson was descended from Matthew (1) Clarkson, who was Secretary of the Province of New York, and died in 1702. The line of descent was through Matthew (2) Clarkson, Jr., who married Cornelia Bancker de Peyster; Dr. Gerardus (3) Clarkson who married Mary Flower; and Rev. William (4) Clarkson who married Catharine Floyd.

The first nineteen pages of this pamphlet are devoted to an extended and interesting account of William Bedlow and Harriet Ashton (Clarkson) Crosby and their ancestors, the remaining pages to a well arranged genealogy of their descendants. The illustrations are portraits of Mr. and Mrs. Crosby and a view of the Rutgers-Crosby house in New York City. An index would have added to the usefulness of this reprint.

Annals of Yarmouth and Barrington, Nova Scotia, in the Revolutionary War. Compiled from original manuscripts, etc., contained in the Office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, State House, Boston, Mass. By Edmund Duval Poole. Yarmouth, N. S. Reprinted from the Yarmouth Herald. J. Murray Lawson. 1899. 8vo. pp. 133.

Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, and the adjacent country was settled about 1760, largely by people from the eastern counties of Massachusetts. The beginning of hostilities between the colonies and Great Britain placed these settlers in an extremely delicate position. They wished to remain neutral. They were bound to the people of Massachusetts not only by the ties of friendship and kinship but also by the strongest commercial interests. Massachusetts furnished them a ready market in which to exchange the products of their own country for needed provisions and supplies. This market was closed by the war, and the privateers which infested the coast of Nova Scotia practically closed all other markets and caused much suffering, especially in the coast towns. The story of how these settlers managed to secure immunity from the privateers and to keep up trade relations with Massachusetts on account of services rendered is unfolded in the letters, petitions, depositions and records preserved in the Massachusetts Archives and printed in this volume. It is an interesting story of a kind, shrewd people remaining quasi-loyal to their own government and friendly to their former neighbors and their kindred who were in rebellion against that government.

Foster Genealogy being the record of the posterity of Reginald Foster an early inhabitant of Ipswich, in New England, whose genealogy is traced back to Anacher, Great Forester of Flanders, who died in 837 A. D. With wills, inventories, biographical sketches, etc. Also the Record of All Other American Fosters. By Frederick Clifton Pierce, author of the Batcheller, Brocklebank, Fiske, Whitney, Pierce, Peirce, and Pearce Genealogies, Hawke Memorial, Forbes-Forbush and Gibson Genealogies, History of Grafton, History of Barre, History of Rockford, Pierce Memorial, Field Genealogy. Published by the author. Chicago. 1899. 8vo. pp. 1081.

This volume is similar in many respects to the genealogies of the Whitney, Fiske and Batcheller families recently published by the same compiler. Besides the family of Reginald Foster of Ipswich, it contains genealogies of the Foster families of Dorchester, Salem, Long Island, Scituate, Chelmsford, and Kingsware (Eng.); an article on the origin of the name by John Fiske; a pedigree of "The Early Foresters"; a generous extract from one of Sir Walter Besant's novels, "Dorothy Foster"; lists of soldiers, pensioners and college graduates bearing the name; and descriptions of the Farne Islands, Bamborough Castle and St. Aidan's Church.

The pedigree of "The Early Foresters" deduces the descent of Reginald Foster from "Anacher, Great Forester of Flanders" who died in 837, through "Thomas, Cuthbert, Sir Thomas, Sir Thomas, Sir Thomas, Sir Thomas, Sir Thomas, Sir William, Sir Richard, Sir Reginald, Sir Alfred, Sir Randolph, Sir John, Sir William, Sir Reginald, Sir Hugo, Sir Richard, Baldwin IV, Baldwin III, Baldwin II, Baldwin I." Truly a remarkable pedigree, supported in several generations by giving the dates of the wills!

There is little to commend in a hastily compiled and inadequately indexed volume of more than a thousand pages in fine print on cheap paper, in which are included the records of families of a similar name, but having no known connection. ***

NOTE.

The Old Planters Society. A new historical society was organized in Boston, March 1, 1900, to be known as The Old Planters Society. Its chief objects are to encourage the study of the beginnings of New England History and to perpetuate the memory of the earliest settlers of that section.

Membership is limited to the descendants of a proprietor, or a planter, or other settler in New England prior to the transfer of the Charter of the Massachusetts Bay Company from England to New England in 1630. While the membership is based on descent, it is not the purpose of the founders to make it a social organization, but rather to make it a live, working historical body. It is expected that an historical publication will be commenced at an early date.

The officers are Col. Thomas Wentworth Higginson, LL. D., of Cambridge, president, Frank Augustine Gardner, M. D., of Salem, vice-president, Eben Putnam, of Burlington, Vt., secretary, Frank Vernon Wright, Esq., of Salem, treasurer; Francis Ellingwood Abbot, Ph. D., of Cambridge, Capt. Augustus Peabody Gardner, of Hamilton, Mrs. Lucy Hall Greenlaw of Cambridge, Col. Josiah Granville Leach, LL. B., of Philadelphia, Edward Oliver Skelton of Boston, Miss Mary Cummings Sawyer of Wellesley Hills, William Crowinshield Endicott, Jr., of Danvers, Frederic Ward Putnam, S. D., of Cambridge, and Mrs. Ida Farr Miller of Wakefield, members of the council.

The list of members (subject to proof of descent) includes besides the officers above named, Hon. George Frisbie Hoar, LL. D., of Worcester, Hon. Henry Cabot Lodge, LL. D., of Nahant, Hon. Henry Nichols Blake, LL. B., of Helena, Montana, Hon. Henry C. Leach of Salem, Edgar Conway Felton of Philadelphia, Francis William Sprague of Brookline, Edwin Child Miller of Wakefield, John Edward Heaton of New Haven, William Prescott Greenlaw of Cambridge, Willis B. Ropes of Salem, William Blake Trask, A. M., of Dorchester, Thomas Conant,

M. D., of Gloucester, Joel Ernest Goldthwait, M. D., of Boston, Miss Maria T. A. Gardner of Marblehead, Francis Higginson Lee of Salem, Mrs. Francis B. Troup of Honiton, England, Mrs. Frank W. Smith of Wibaux, Montana, Mrs. Antoinette W. Davis of New York, Mrs. Ruth Wood Hoag of Dorchester, Mrs. Sarah S. Clement of Rutland, Vt., Mrs. William Gerry Slade of New York, Augustus A. Galloupe of Beverly, and Mrs. Louisa Turner Hodgdon of Boston.

Thomas Johnston, when but a boy, purchased on credit a supply of goods and started on a peddling expedition in Scotland. His entire stock of goods was stolen in the night at a tavern where he stopped, and fearing to return and meet his creditor, he determined to try his fortune with a party of emigrants who were going to America to settle upon the Waldo patent. The letters which follow give considerable information about his family in Scotland.

Brother, I received your letter to my astonishment, dated on the 18th of Nov. 1789 by the hand of Mr. Proctor in Softlaw near Kelso, which I will see myself indebted to him as long as I live, for the great trouble he has been at to get it delivered safe to me. In the first place with respect to your parents, our mother died in Preston in March 1772, and she mourned till the day of her death for you; and I think I hear my old father joining that speech (you know where it stands) when your letter arrived here, my son was dead & is alive, was lost and is found, — bring hither the fatted calf, dress it and let us eat and be merry. But to give you a more particular account of our aged parents; when our mother died my father was so struck with palsey that he was incapable of action, but she was decently interred in Preston churchyard by her 3 sons and 2 sons-in-law. My father died in Nov. in the year 1775 in the 77th year of his age, and is lying in Preston churchyard.

But to give you an account of us all I shall begin with our oldest brother John, who learned his trade with George Johnston in Abbey St Bathans, a weaver. He married as soon almost as he was free from an apprenticeship. His wife's name is Baby [Barbara] White; — you will remember her. She lived in Cattledugh [Castleshield ?]; by her he had 6 sons and 2 daughters. The daughters died in infancy and 2 of his sons have fallen since. The names of those that survive are Thomas, David, John, and William. But I am sorry to let you know that he died in August 1781; and if he be not happy this day I do not know when I shall appear. David, his second son, is a weaver, and is in the house with his mother. John and William are paper-makers. Thomas learned no business; and I do not know where he is now. Our brother John died in Chirnside, and was interred in Preston churchyard. Our sister-in-law is now in Alumbank quarter [?], a widow. To come now to our oldest sister Margaret; she married a very sober young man whose name is James Greenlaw; they lived mostly in Lammermuir. She had to him 7 sons, and 3 daughters; 2 sons and 1 daughter died in infancy, and there are 5 sons and 2 daughters living. The oldest daughter is married; her name is Jenet; her sister Jean keeps the house with her father. Our brother-in-law at this time is living in Dunselaw. His sons names are Thomas, James, Robert, Andrew and John, the youngest, who I think is 12 years old. But now, brother, I am sorry to tell you our sister died in March 1788, and left, I dare say, a loving husband and a heavy family. He still remains a widower. I come now to our youngest sister Baby [Barbara] who married a very sober young man whose name was Robert Gray, a mason to his business. Babbay [Barbara] had to him 5 children, whose names were John & Jenat, Jean, Thomas, and Margaret. John & Jenat are twins, and both alive; Jean and Thomas died in infancy. But again I tell you with lamentation our brother-in-law died in January in the year 1776, and left our sister with 3 small children. No doubt but she has had her own difficulties, but the youngest is now about 13 years old. Babby [Barbara] still remains a widow, and is living just now at Burnhouse (?) near Cockburn. Our youngest brother Rodger married a young woman whose name was Margaret Todd, and by her he has 4 children, 2 sons and 2 daughters, Jenat, James, Thomas, and Margaret. At this time he is living in Horsly (?) and follows laboring work.

I return to myself, I am your brother Andrew Johnston; I married Jean Cairns, daughter of James Cairns in Blackhouse. She was brought up at Elm-ford with her uncle John Cairns, you will mind her. She has borne to me 5 sons and 4 daughters, [of whom] I have just now living 1 daughter and 4 sons. Their names are Jean, James, John, Robert, and Trotter (?). My oldest son, Thomas, was killed with a cart-wheele when 14 years of age, and 3 daughters died in infancy. I live just now in Castleshield where I have been 17 years with a gentleman whose name is John Trotter, Esq. I never learned any business, but like old Jacob, have been a keeper of Sheep from my youth up. I live in the parish of Longformacus and have done for nearly 30 years. You was born there; and I have consulted their Sessions records, and find you (were) born March 31st, 1735. So if this comes safe to your hand you will easily know your age.

Sir: — I think we received two letters dated from America in the year 1755, both about the same time, but I mind very little about it, being then but a boy; but I know my father wrote to your direction often. But I see you have received only one [of them]. If this comes safe to your hands take it as a token of love from all your brothers and sisters and their families. To cover our every circumstance of life that has happened this family since you left Britain I have neither room [for] nor do I mind [remember] them. Old uncle John Mill is still alive in Earlstone schoolmaster; and our 2 cousins in Kelso, Ann and Margaret Trotter are in health. Sir in the year 1780 I settled an account with Adam Wilson, merchant in Dunse, which you had left him, and I took his discharge, which is still in my possession [for] £4..5s..6d. Sir you will not take this last clause of my letter ill, for believe it, brother, I would rather see your face in Scotland once more than be in possession of your estate. My love to my sister-in-law and sons and daughters. I remain your loving brother till death.

Andrew Johnston.

Castleshield January 23, 1790.

Mr. Proctor begs his compl. to Mr. Johnson, is happy he has found out his friends. His br. And. is with me at Softlaw 31 January 1790.

To the care of John Proctor, Esq of Softlaw by Kelso.

Direct for me And. Johnston, overseer in Castleshield, near Dunse.

Loving Brother, in haste of postage [so as to send?] by Mr. McLean; we are all well, and all friends. As to the contents of your letter about sending the bill of exchange on a merchant in Glasgow, as for that matter I shall make a pass-over till your opportunity offers. As for any of our friends coming over there can be nothing said at present. If we were to see one another face to face [it] would be the greatest happiness and make an amends for all. As for Adam Wilson's bill it was £4; his receipt is in my possession. Your sister Margaret's oldest son is in the West Indies, in the military line; his name is Thomas Greenlaw.

Brother, I let you know [that] I [have] lost my youngest son since I wrote you last; which is hard for the mother. I must conclude as in haste; and believe me, dear brother, to remain your most affectionate [brother] till death.

Edinburgh
12 March, 1792.

And. Johnston.

P. S. Direct to me as formerly, Castleshield, Stuart, by Dunse. Brother remember I am a lover of the Hanover Family.

Superscribed "Thos. Johnston, Esq. Bristol, to the care of Rev. Mr. McLean.

Dear Brother — I received, by post, yours with Mr. McLean's postcript, on the 10th of September. He writes me that his health is bad, and that he will not be able to come to me; but if he does come I will take care of him as a friend. I have written him that I must be in Edinburgh and Falkirk about the 12th of October, and if he be within 60 miles I shall see him. I do believe we shall be happy together, but I should have been tenfold happier to have seen a brother near 40 years out of mind. I mind [remember] very little of you; — it is surprising Babby [Barbara] minds more of you than I do; Rodger does not remember of seeing you at all. Brother at the appearance of your first letter I was so struck and overcome that I was speechless for about one hour; — whether it was joy or grief I could not tell. — To return to your last letter, my time being short, for Mr. McLean writes me that the vessel is to sail in less than ten days, which gives me no time to consult my friends. But I thank you kindly in the name of all of us for your offer of assistance in case of transportation. With regard to myself I have reason to thank my God that I have had the necessaries of life both to serve myself and to help a weak brother as I have often done; and I can add that I never had a brother or sister but they have received of my liberal (?) bounty; — more so I believe than I shall be well paid back. Nevertheless I have both meat and money, to serve myself; and it would be vain in me to attempt to change my native [country] and despise the goodness of my God. Brother, you complain of want of money in America; if that be the case it is not so in Scotland, for I can see no pinch. If I be in a strait [I can] go to Dunse banking office with a friend and draw £20, or £50, or £100 for six or twelve months at five per cent, so that men of credit and honesty can carry on a good business if smart and not have any great stock of his own. North Britain is greatly altered since you left it, as much as one penny Scotch is to one shilling Sterling. Brother you have neglected this grand opportunity of paying me that account. It was, I own, out of Wilson's power to compel me, but when I came up I determined that your name should not stick in the Merse Country; for I always think that saying true that if a man be not just to his neighbor whom he has seen he never can be just to his God whom he never saw, and will at last be found wanting in the balance of the sanctuary. But to return from this digression: My brother John's family have behaved themselves very well, and do nothing without my advice; — and Baby [Barbara] and her family the self-same. But I have not [recently] seen any of them, being at a good distance, and my time short for fear of losing the vessel, so that I cannot advise you of doing anything at all until March when Mr. McLean goes home. We shall then have a meeting, and I shall advise them forward as much as I possibly can. As for my oldest son, he is an apprentice for a gardener; and if he were out of his time, I would send him to you, and you should be his governor: — and be sure to keep your youngest daughter for him, and induce him to aspire to that lofty title which you assume to yourself, Esq.!

Brother, I am happy to hear of the prosperity of your family, but sorry to hear of the frailty of my sister which I never saw. Pray do not fail to write me in March how she is, and all friends.

Brother farewell
And. Johnston

FALMOUTH, MASS., RECORDS.

The first book of Falmouth Town Records, a thin folio volume which has recently been treated with the Emery process, is written in from both ends, the volume being reversed, and the original paging beginning at 1 in each end and meeting near the centre of the volume. This arrangement makes about one-half of the book upside down, no matter which way it stands, and leaves in doubt which end is the beginning. A copy of the book made for the town about twelve years ago begins with what is, in the present binding, the back of the volume and continues with the matter in its present front. The records as here printed follow the order of the copy but are transcribed from the original. They comprise the vital records only, which are mixed in with the town proceedings, records of ear marks and other miscellaneous matter.

BOOK NOTES.

Genealogy of the Descendants of Edward Bates of Weymouth, Mass. By Samuel A. Bates, Vice-President of Quincy Historical Society; Honorary Member of Weymouth, Old Colony, and Maine Historical Societies. Author of "History of Braintree, Mass.;" "Ancient Iron Works at Braintree" (first in America); "Revolutionary Soldiers of Braintree." Editor of "Printed Records of Braintree." Frank A. Bates, Publisher, South Braintree, Mass. 1900. 8vo, pp. 145. Price $1.25.

The principal part of this genealogy was prepared by the late Samuel Austin Bates, who, for many years, was town clerk of Braintree. The work was completed, edited and published by his son. A biography of Edward Bates, the progenitor of the family, precedes the genealogy, and it is followed by a biography of the family historian. A list of Revolutionary soldiers and two indexes of names complete the volume.

Diary of Increase Mather, March, 1675 — December, 1676. Together with Extracts from another Diary by him, 1674—1687. With an Introduction and Notes, by Samuel A. Green. Cambridge: John Wilson and Son. University Press. 1900. 8vo, pp. 56.

This fragment of Dr. Mather's diary, which has survived the ravages of time and has been rendered available to the public by Dr. Green, gives a vivid glimpse of the inner life of the diarist and of the times in which he lived. The brief items, which the writer jotted down apparently for later use in more extended form, and the intermingled pious ejaculations, detail his daily occupations, illustrate the working of his mind and show the kind of mental and spiritual food then considered necessary for the puritan minister. His solicitude for the safety of Boston and for the welfare of his own family is shown in frequent examinations of himself and of "ye pvblick state of things."

The diarist begins on the first day of the year (1m. 25d. 1675) with one of these examinations in which he mentions as reasons for Providence putting him

"upon Humiliation extraordinary", "ye sins of ye year past", "My old sins," "The plagues of Hrt yt doe still abide me." As to the public state of affairs he notes the low estate of the Lord's people, the poverty of the country, the unsatisfactory condition of trade, the desolation of the "Colledge" and designs against New England. He records no resolutions for the new year. His prayer is that the public may be delivered and blessed, the Colledge be revived and "yt Boston may be preserved from Fires e [and] from mortal diseases."

Again and again, after similar examinations, we find him praying that Boston may be delivered from fires and desolating judgments. His prayers were in vain. The long dreaded conflagration, the danger of which he so clearly saw, came at last, and we find him thus chronicling it under date of November 27, 1676: "This was ye Fatal e dismall day, wn ye Meeting House e Houses yrabouts, e mine amongst ye Rest were burnt wh fire."

Besides the original diary for 1675–6, the pamphlet contains extracts from another diary by Dr. Mather. These extracts were made by Dr. Jeremy Belknap more than a century ago from the original which is now supposed to be lost. They extend from 1674 to 1687 and illustrate that interesting period of New England history.

Dr. Green has rendered a service of inestimable value to historians and genealogists in making this diary accessible. ***

The Genealogy History and Alliances of the American House of Delano 1621 to 1899 Compiled by Major Joel Andrew Delano with the History and Heraldry of the Maison de Franchimont and de Lannoy to Delano, 1096 to 1621 and the Royal ancestry of Lannoy from Guelph, Prince of the Scyrri, to Philippe de Lannoy, 476 A. D. to 1621 including other royal lines and a list of the Lannoy Chevaliers de la Toison d'Or [Golden Fleece] arranged by Mortimer Delano de Lannoy Pursuivant-of-armes Member New York Genealogical and Biographical Society Société Suisse d'Heraldique and Herold Society zu Berlin. New York 1899. 4to, pp. 561.

The greater part of this work is devoted to the descendants of Philip Delano (De La Noye) who came to Plymouth on the "Fortune" in 1621, and married, Dec. 19, 1634, Hester Dewsbury. The compilation was made by Maj. Joel Andrew Delano of Grove, Michigan, and appears to have been conscientiously done. The book is printed on excellent paper: it would seem, however, that the amount of money expended, might, by intelligent disposition, have secured a work of largely increased value to present and future generations.

From the title page we infer that Mortimer Delano de Lannoy is responsible for everything contained in the book except the collection of the genealogical material, and for the editing of that. In spite of all that has been written regarding the logical arrangement of family genealogies, here we are given a book that abandons all precedent, and jumbles the various families together in a way that renders the tracing of ascent and descent a matter of the greatest difficulty. No superior numerals, denoting the generation, nor consecutive numbers appear. While the title "pursuivant-of-armes" is doubtless mellifluent, however derived, (certainly not from the Heralds' College,) in this work it appears synonymous with an utter inconception of the features essential to a genealogy and of the value of punctuation.

The first ninety odd pages and an inserted chart give "every direct and indirect line of [the immigrant's] ancestry from the earliest known data — authentic and otherwise." The historical value of this portion needs no comment other than the author's own!

The evil of an atrocious arrangement might easily have been palliated by a complete full-name index. The opportunity is neglected. All surnames beginning with a given letter are grouped together regardless of their second letter. Given names occur only of Delanos. Cora Delano appears first on the list and Carmen last!

As far as editing is concerned the book is valuable mostly as an example of what to avoid. ***

Proceedings of the John Bean (1660) Association, at its Annual Reunion at Portland, Me. August 31, 1899. [Portland, 1900.] 8vo, pp. 97 to 152.

An account of the fourth reunion of this Association, a register of members attending the same, and biographical notices of deceased members are given in the opening pages of this pamphlet. The necrologies are of John Harper Blaisdell of Haverhill, Mass., Charles Edwin Bean of Iowa City, Ia., Flora Stella Bean of Littleton, N. H., Emma Jane Wadleigh of Waterloo, and Jonathan Gibson Bean of Brownfield, Me. The remaining pages contain the continuation, from last year's Proceedings, of the Genealogy of John Bean, prepared by Hon. Josiah H. Drummond.

The Gorham Family in Rhode Island. Notes on the Providence Line, by Georgiana Guild; Bristol Branch, by Henry S. Gorham. Boston: Printed by David Clapp & Son. 1900. 8vo, pp. 10. Price, twenty cents. For sale by Miss Guild, 34 Pratt St., Providence, R. I.

This pamphlet is a reprint from the New England Historical and Genealogical Register. It was compiled to refute certain errors in print concerning the Rhode Island Gorhams. The work has been done with great care, and references to the original sources of information are given in footnotes.

The California Register. Vol. I, No. 1. April, 1900. San Francisco: Published by the California Genealogical Society. [Dr. Edward Stephens Clark, May Stansbury Mansfield, and Zoeth Skinner Eldredge, Committee on Publication. Quarterly, $2.00 per annum, single numbers 60 cents.]

This new periodical is patterned after the New England Historical and Genealogical Register with the exception that a tabular pedigree occupies the place of the usual portrait. The initial number contains a tabular pedigree showing the ancestry of Mrs. Selden S. Wright; genealogies of Holmes, Hughes, Pearl, Pope, and Peet families, all arranged on the "Register" plan; constitution, lists of members and of officers of the California Genealogical Society; a catalogue of genealogies and local histories owned in the vicinity of San Francisco; and notes, queries and book notes. The committee have done well to make such a good beginning, and if their present standard of excellence is maintained, The California Register will make for itself a permanent place in American genealogical literature.

The Wade Genealogy being Some account of the origin of the name, and of the lost folk-story of the famous hero, Wada, particulars and pedigrees of famous Englishmen of the name, and Genealogies of the families of Wade of Massachusetts and New Jersey, to which are added many miscellaneous pedigrees, also A roll of honor of the Wades who went to War. Illustrated with portraits and coats-of-arms. Compiled by Stuart C. Wade. New York, Stuart C. Wade, 146 West 34th Street. 1900. Part I. pp. 96. Price $1.00.

Part I of this genealogy is divided into two chapters, the first treating of the origin and etymology of the name, the second of its antiquity, illustrated with English pedigrees. Forty-two pages are devoted to the origin of the name, from which we will quote two sentences found on page sixteen. "As to the origin of the family-name, nothing of any significance can be said. Speculation in this direction is futile." The second chapter is of doubtful value to American Wades, unless the compiler has better evidence than that presented on page eighty four for an English connection.

A History of the Allerton Family in the United States, 1585 to 1885, and a Genealogy of the Descendants of Isaac Allerton, "Mayflower Pilgrim," Plymouth, Mass., 1620. By Walter S. Allerton, New York City, 1888. Revised and Enlarged by Horace True Currier, Chicago. Published by Samuel Waters Allerton, Chicago, Illinois. 1900. 8vo, pp. 149.

The compiler of this revised edition of the Allerton Family states in the preface that it is issued to add facts found since the publication of the first edition and "to correct errors which almost invariably occur in Genealogies through incorrect family records thought to be true when published, but afterwards found otherwise."

With the compiler's purpose in mind, we shall first examine his account of Isaac (1) Allerton's family on pages twenty-nine and thirty. There we find it stated that Remember (2) Allerton, daughter of Isaac (1), probably died soon after 1627, and that her sister Sarah (2) married Moses Maverick of Marblehead. Prior to the publication of Bradford's History in 1856 this error was excusable, but even then a patient searcher after the truth might have found an old document at Salem which gives Remember as the name of Moses Maverick's wife. This ancient writing may be seen in the files of the Essex County Probate Court (No. 30318). It is a petition of Remember and John Woodman, minor children of Edward and Remember Woodman and grandchildren of Moses Maverick, dated 22 September, 1693, and endorsed on the back is "Daughters of Moses & Rember Maverick". It should be borne in mind that Marblehead was a part of Salem until about the time when Bradford wrote "His doughter Remember [Allerton] is maried at Salem, & hath 3. or 4. children living."

A reference on this same page twenty-nine sends us off to the Appendix, Note A., for information about the Brewster family. There we find that the compiler has borrowed four pages from an article published in the New England Historical and Genealogical Register, the writer of which is to be congratulated upon the omission of the customary acknowledgment. A comparison of Note A. with the original article shows that the few changes that have been made have wrought havoc with its accuracy. In a single sentence on page 117 the compiler is able to make such changes as to add two passengers to the Mayflower list — one as a wife four years before her marriage, the other as a child five years before his birth — and to have that famous vessel drop anchor in Plymouth harbor five days before her arrival!

The modification of some of the extravagant statements in the biography of Isaac (1) Allerton and the omission of the derogatory reference to Governor Bradford would have been an improvement in that part of the book. ***

NOTES.

Pioneers of Massachusetts. Rev. Charles Henry Pope, pastor of the First Church of Charlestown, compiler of the Pope and Cheney genealogies, will publish about the middle of June a quarto volume of 550 pages containing a descriptive list of the men and women who settled in Massachusetts during the first half of the seventeenth century. Mr. Pope has drawn his information from original sources, having personally examined the colony, town, county, church and court records as far as now accessible within the territory covered. He has also canvassed the passenger lists, letters, journals and other contemporaneous documents. The arrangement is alphabetical, and under each name is given as far as found information as to the former home, kindred, social position, occupation, career, marriage, children, death and will of the settler. The price is now $10.00, strictly net and payable in advance. At an early date the price will be advanced to $12.00. Sample page and circular may be had of Mr. Pope at 221 Columbus Ave., Boston.

Jameson Genealogy. Rev. E. O. Jameson, (49 Hancock Street, Boston) compiler of the Cogswell and Choate genealogies and of the histories of Medway, has in press a genealogy of the Jameson Family which will be ready for delivery to subscribers in the autumn of this year. The price to advance subscribers is $5.00. The price will be advanced to $7.00 after publication.

Brewster Memorial. A number of the descendants of Elder William Brewster have formed themselves into a committee for the "purpose of collecting from the descendants of Elder William Brewster, subscriptions towards a fund for the erection, in the near future, of a memorial unto their common ancestor; which memorial shall be an Hospital known as 'The Elder Brewster Memorial Hospital,' or such other form of memorial as may be hereafter substituted by the subscribers to the fund, and shall in dignity of design and execution do justice to the object in view." All interested in this memorial are invited to gather in Plymouth, Sept. 6, 1900, when the Society of Mayflower Descendants holds its Congress. Subscriptions will be acknowledged by the Treasurer of the Committee, Mrs. Margaret Lennig Oglesby, "Sandown," Sea Girt, N. J.

THE OWL is the title of one of the newest of genealogical periodicals. It is edited by Mr. George Dikeman Wing, the twelve year old son of Judge George W. Wing of Kewaunee, Wisconsin. The first number was published in September, 1899, and it "hoots monthly for fifty cents a year." The "hooting" is largely about western branches of early New England families, among whom may be mentioned the Wings, Sweets, Gales, Benjamins, Spragues and Hoyts as receiving special attention in the numbers thus far published.

QUERIES.

A charge of one cent per word is made for the insertion of queries, and a year's subscription to THE ADVERTISER will be given for the first correct answer to each query. Queries which could easily be answered by using well known genealogical books will not be accepted.

ANSWER TO QUERY.

25. Mary, not Mercy, wife of Peter Worden, died at Yarmouth, May, 1687. Dennis was not set off till a hundred years later. Worden Family Record by O. N. Worden, 1868, thinks she was a Sears or Winslow. She certainly was not a Sears. Freeman's Hist. Cape Cod, II. 764, says "Kenelm Winslow, Jr., married his cousin, Mercy Worden," and this indicates a previous Winslow and Worden marriage. Mary Worden's will is recorded at Barnstable. A search of Winslow records might settle the connection.

UNITED STATES DIRECT TAX, 1798.

Twenty-third District of the First Division of Massachusetts.

COMMUNICATED BY FRANK ERNEST WOODWARD, MALDEN, MASS.

In 1798 The Congress imposed upon the people of the United States a direct tax of two million dollars, which amount was apportioned to the several States. The State of Massachusetts, then including Maine, was assessed as her share two hundred and sixty thousand, four hundred and thirty-five dollars. For purposes of taxation the State was divided into districts under the direction of the Collectors of Internal Revenue. The returns were deposited in the Boston Custom-house where they remained in obscurity till about the year 1855, when, with the approval of the Collector, they were transferred to the custody of the New England Historic Genealogical Society where they are still preserved.

These returns are of great value to the genealogist. The list published below contains the names of all heads of families who in 1798 were living in the towns of Bristol, Waldoborough, Nobleborough, and Medumcook (Friendship), Me., as well as all who owned lands. The assessors prepared two schedules, the first containing a list of all owners of dwelling houses which with a house lot of one-quarter of an acre exceeded in value one hundred dollars; the second included all owners of dwelling houses of less value than one hundred dollars, and all owners of land within the district embraced by these four towns.

These two lists have here been combined into one. The first column represents the number of dwelling houses; the second their value; the third, the number of acres of land owned not including house lots, and the fourth their value.

BOOK NOTES.

James Parshall and His Descendants Compiled from the most authentic records. By James C. Parshall, Esq., Counsellor at Law, Author of The Barker Genealogy, etc. Syracuse. Privately Printed. 1900. 8vo, pp. 38. Price, $1.00.

The chief purpose of the compiler in publishing this pamphlet is to awaken among the descendants of James Parshall, who settled in Southold, L. I. in the latter part of the seventeenth century, an interest in a more complete genealogy which he intends to compile and publish. This method of interesting a family in a proposed genealogy dates back to the early days of the New England Historical and Genealogical Register, when the custom was established of printing a brief genealogy of the early generations of a family in that periodical and reprinting the same in pamphlet form, a custom happily maintained to the present time. Mr. Parshall has arranged this genealogy on a modified form of the Register plan, which would have been improved if he had used arabic numerals to designate such individuals as appear in the next generation as heads of families. Mr. Parshall's work gives ample evidence of his ability to write an adequate genealogy of his family and he is entitled to the hearty coöperation of the other descendants in his undertaking.

Family Records of some of the Descendants of Robert Francis of Wethersfield, Conn. Compiled by Carrie E. Chatfield, Minneapolis, Minn. April, 1900. 8vo, pp. 24.

Mrs. Chatfield has made accessible and preserved in a permanent form a record of the descendants of Robert Francis of Wethersfield, Conn., in a single line to the fourth generation, and in various lines from the fifth to the ninth generations. The arrangement of the genealogical data is excellent. Doubtless some interesting information concerning the earlier generations might have been added from the registries of probate and deeds, had these been accessible to the compiler. By frequent references to the source from which her materials are drawn, the compiler reveals her appreciation of the value of giving authorities for statements in modern genealogical work.

Family Records. Lamb, Savory, Harriman. Collected and Compiled by Fred W. Lamb, A Descendant. 1900.

In this pamphlet are traced some of the descendants for six generations of Isaac Lamb who settled in New London, Conn., about 1695, of Robert Savory of Newbury, Mass., for seven generations, and of Leonard Harriman of Rowley, Mass., for six generations. The Lamb family records were drawn largely from a manuscript record of the late Rev. Joseph A. Lamb of Mystic, Conn., the Savory in part from Judge Savary's history of that family, and the Harrimans from Fullonton's history of Raymond, N. H., supplemented by the work of the compiler.

Greenwood Colonial and Revolutionary Services. 1695–1783. By Isaac J. Greenwood. Boston, 1899. Oblong 12mo, pp. 11.

This record of military services is tabulated from extensive notes collected some thirty-five years ago by the compiler. It contains the Colonial services in the French and Indian wars from 1650 to 1775 of the descendants of Nathaniel and Samuel Greenwood of Boston and Thomas Greenwood of Newton in one table, and their Revolutionary services in another. The name of each soldier is followed by his line of descent, his residence, rank, service, duration of service, and the names of the captain and colonel under whom he served. ***

QUERIES.

A charge of one cent per word is made for the insertion of queries, and a year's subscription to THE ADVERTISER will be given for the first correct answer to each query. Queries which could easily be answered by using well known genealogical books will not be accepted.

BIOGRAPHY OF REV. DAVID AND ELIZABETH (PRESCOTT) HALL.

BY EDITH G. L. PECKER, OF BOSTON.

David[4] Hall, born in the historic town of Yarmouth, Mass., August 6 (Old Style), 1704, was the fourth son of Joseph and Hannah (Miller) Hall. He was great-grandson of John[1] Hall of Yarmouth, who perhaps had formerly lived in Charlestown, and who died at Yarmouth, July 23, 1696.

John[2] Hall, Jr., son of the immigrant, had wife Priscilla, who died at Yarmouth, March 30, 1712, aged 68. She was probably Priscilla Bearse, daughter of Augustine Bearse of Barnstable, and born March 10, 1643/4. John Hall was a deacon of the church at Yarmouth and died there October 14, 1710. His gravestone and that of his wife are in the old graveyard at Dennis.

His son, Joseph[3] Hall (father of David[4]), born at Yarmouth, Sept. 29, 1663, settled on his father's farm, and like him was a deacon of the church. He married first, February 12, 1690, Hannah, daughter of John and Margaret (Winslow) Miller, who was born at Yarmouth, April 19, 1666, and died August 23, 1710; he married, second, Mary (Faunce) Morton, who died May 31, 1761, aged 80. Joseph Hall held the office of selectman 28 years, commencing in 1701, was chosen representative in 1715 and '16, and in 1716 was on a committee to see about building a new meeting house.

David[4] Hall, the subject of this sketch, was graduated from Harvard College in 1724, and received the degree of A. M. in course. In 1777, Dartmouth College conferred upon him the honorary degree of D. D. Thus blessed with a good education and naturally of a religious temperament, he was well fitted for the vocation which he had chosen — the ministry — and his "Diary," of which, through the courtesy of Dr. Samuel A. Green, Librarian of the Massachusetts Historical Society, I have made a careful perusal, testifies that he was eloquent.

The people of Sutton, Mass., were not slow to appreciate this, for after having invited him to supply, for a few months, the place of their former pastor, Rev. John McKinstry, whom they had dismissed in 1728, they "voted that thar should bee a town meeting caled in order to give mr David Hall a call to Settel in the ministeral office in Sutton." * This important town meeting was held March 26, 1729, when the town concurred with the church in giving Mr. Hall a call, and also voted that he should have a "Salery of one Hundred Per year in Province Bills, or the Equal value of one Hundred Pounds per year of Province Bills as they are now valued, as long as he shall serve them in the work of the ministry". It was also agreed to "Leace out to mr David Hall part of the Ministeral Land — to wit — one thirty acre lot number 18, and one Seventy acre for Nine Hundred and Ninety nine Years at Six Pence Per year for Incouragement or towards his Setelment, and also to Give him one hundred Pounds in work, Meterals for Building".* To their request he sent a characteristic reply of acceptance, dated July 15, 1729, and on October 15 of that year, he was duly ordained pastor of the first Congregational church of Sutton, and remained such the rest of his life.

Soon after, June 24, 1731, he was married to Elizabeth, daughter of Dr. Jonathan and Rebecca (Bulkeley) Prescott, of Concord.

The church at his settlement consisted of only forty-nine members, but in fifteen years, two hundred and sixty-one were added by his ardent labors, nor did he confine himself to Sutton alone, but included many towns from Boston to Cape Cod. His success is best shown by his own statements: "April 26th 1741 * * * ye ſabath before this I obſerved almoſt ye whole aſſembly in tears at ye ſame time. ſo mighty came ye word of ye Lord uppon them". "Sept. ye 4th went this weak to concord preacht a lecture appointed while there. * * * both men & women came with tears and beſought my Inſtruction & prayers". This occurred at Springfield and elsewhere.

He was the friend and admirer of Jonathan Edwards, and was a member of the Ecclesiastical Council, called in 1750, to confer upon the differences which had arisen between Dr. Edwards and his church. Dr. Hall gives a spirited account of this affair in his "Diary", and there records his protest against the dismissal of Dr. Edwards.

Dr. Hall, himself, had much difficulty with his people, not only with the so-called "Separating Brethren" and other seceders from the church, but also in the matter of his salary, which, by the variation in the value of currency, was a source of much dispute, and on several occasions the church and pastor came to an agreement by arbitration.

He was a faithful worker to the day of his death, not only among his own flock but wherever he went. He cheered the afflicted and was constantly by the bedside of the dying, often visited ten or twelve families a week, and would go miles to catechise the little ones for whom he had an unusual fondness.

It is said that Dr. Hall gave the common and burying-ground to the town.† Nov. 2, 1751, he writes, "I have of Late given one Hundred Pounds old Tenor towards building a meeting Houſe". In

* Sutton Town Records. † History of Sutton.

1782, he sent as a present to Dartmouth College "ſix Folio Zanchies Works 2 large folios John Calvins Expſn on Daniel with the Hebrew & Latin text. Martin Buker's Exposition on Romans Theodore Bezaes Theological Treatice againſt Papel Errors: & a Large volume of Robert Bellermine in defence of Papel Errors all in Lattin".

In spite of his real success in the ministry, this pious man was much discouraged by the results of his endeavors, and although constantly fasting for the benefit of his soul, often felt that he had "lost ye end of Gods cord of love". Aug. 17th 1759, with charming quaintness, he summarizes as follows — "This Day I was Born. 55 years are the Days of ye years of my life. few and Evil have they been! They are paſſed Like a tale that is told. and as a watch in the night! God has given me four ſons and ſeven Daughters by the wife of my youth: 3 Grandsons & 1 grand Daughter have I alſo." Not only was he an ideal pastor, but a kind and loving husband and father as well.

His views were unusually broad, and he was deeply interested in all matters concerning his own country and those across the seas, recording minutely many facts and rumors of interest. Naturally his writings were of this nature and he was often requested to publish them, yet so far as we know, only two sermons * did he allow to be printed.

Thus lived this sturdy New England Puritan, an important factor in the growth of the little community and in the lives of the people, making the church the social, political and religious centre of the town.

He died May 8, 1789, and was buried in the old Sutton graveyard, where his grateful people erected a monument to his memory.

Elizabeth, wife of Rev. David Hall, born "Decemr ye 2 day: 1713",† was the daughter of Dr. Jonathan and Rebecca (Bulkeley) Prescott of Concord. Dr. Jonathan[3] Prescott was born April 5, 1677, and married July 9, 1701, Rebecca, daughter of Hon. Peter and Rebecca (Wheeler) Bulkeley of Concord, who was born "24. 6. 81".* Jonathan settled in Concord, Mass., where he was successful as a physician and skillful surgeon. He died October 28, 1729, greatly lamented. He was son of Capt. Jonathan[2] Prescott by his second wife Elizabeth Hoar. Capt. Jonathan, born perhaps at Watertown, settled in Lancaster where he married first, Aug. 3, 1670, Dorothy ———, who was the mother of three children. After her death, he removed to Concord and there married Dec. 23, 1675, Elizabeth, daughter of John Hoar, Esq., a lawyer of Concord, and granddaughter of Charles Hoar, Jr., of Gloucester, England.‡ She died Sept. 25, 1687, and on Dec. 18, 1689, he married third, Rebecca, widow of Hon. Peter Bulkeley and daughter of Joseph and Sarah (Goldston) [Merriam]† Wheeler. After her death, he married his fourth wife, Aug. 18, 1718, Ruth Brown, who survived him and died Feb. 9, 1740. He was a farmer and a man of ability, representing the town of Concord in the General Assembly from 1692–95 and '97–99 inclusive, and in 1712 and '13. He was also captain in the militia, and his house was fortified as a garrison-house in 1676. He died Dec. 5, 1721. His father was John[1] Prescott who was one of the very first settlers of Lancaster, Mass.

A descendant of a line of honest and intelligent people, it is not surprising that Elizabeth should partake of those sterling qualities, which fitted her so well for the duties of a minister's wife. She was loving and entered sympathetically into her husband's plans. He often mentions his "dear wife" as accompanying him on his trips to Boston and elsewhere. She was also a faithful mother, constantly working for the temporal needs of her growing family, by no means an easy task; their spiritual condition too, caused her much anxiety. She did not relinquish her labors when they were older and married, but visited them as frequently as possible, and often gathered them all back into the old homestead. When her eldest son's wife died, she took the motherless little one to her home to love and cherish, and made it the home again, for the time being, for the sorrowing husband. Perhaps after all, the best description and the highest praise I could give is that she was a true type of the New England mother. She died Aug. 7, 1803, and was also buried in the old Sutton cemetery. The children of Rev. David and Elizabeth Hall were: —

H., in March, 1897, under the direction of the late Mr. Dudley Tappan Chase. The original portraits were painted in December, 1780.

PLYMOUTH COUNTY MARRIAGES.

The publication of the Plymouth County Marriages in this magazine will be suspended for the present. These records were begun in the March number of 1898, seven installments having appeared covering the years 1692 to 1746, and great care has been exercised in giving an accurate and literal transcript of the originals at Plymouth. The publication of the balance of these marriages, covering the years 1747 to 1788, has been forestalled by the Rev. Frederic W. Bailey of New Haven, who has recently issued a volume containing these later records and a part of those already published in the Advertiser. It is not the mission of the Advertiser to republish what has appeared elsewhere in print, even though the work be as poorly done as in this case, while so many of our early records remain unprinted.

The student of Pilgrim genealogy will find literal transcripts of the marriage records during the Colony period printed in the Plymouth Colony Records, the larger part appearing in the eighth volume. From the end of the Colony period to 1746, the marriages for the County are found in the first and second volumes of the Advertiser, also in a reprint from the same which contains the marriages only, and, which may be had of the publisher at fifty cents per copy. After 1746, Mr. Bailey's book will serve as a guide to the marriages before 1788.

The marriages from an entire volume of the Court records — an unnumbered one — covering the years 1723 to 1737 are omitted from Mr. Bailey's volume. A few scattering marriages are also omitted, and a number of slips like Derrow and Deirow for Decrow appear in his work.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

The vital records of two more towns (Rochester and Freetown, Mass.) will be commenced in the March and June numbers of the Advertiser for next year. These, with those already in progress, will enable the editor to give a variety wide enough to make this magazine almost indispensable to all interested in Old Colony families, as well as continue the policy of devoting a larger proportion of its space to vital records than is done by any other magazine in America.

BOOK NOTES.

Society of Mayflower Descendants in the State of Illinois. Publication Number One. [Edited by Tyler Seymour Morris.] Nineteen hundred. 8vo, pp. 173.

This volume in the originality of its arrangement and in the quality of its illustrations, binding and paper, has those peculiar excellences that mark the former works of Mr. Morris. The larger part of the book is devoted to full page tabular pedigrees, each of which illustrates the descent of some member of the society from a Mayflower Pilgrim. These pedigrees give the full dates of birth, marriage and death, and in footnotes the authorities are given. This publication of detailed lines of eligibility is commendable, yet it may bring to grief, through the work of some zealous critic, some of these claimants to Mayflower honor. Coincidences of names, localities, and occupations, with other circumstantial evidence, which sometimes lead even the most cautious searcher to wrong conclusions, make it hazardous to give publicity to the lines of descent upon which membership in the patriotic hereditary societies depend. The genealogical data in this book, having been accepted by the historians of this organization, will be of great value to aspirants for membership in the Society of Mayflower Descendants in filling out the early generations on their application papers.

Besides the tables of descent, this book contains a brief history of the Illinois Society, with its constitution, by-laws, officers and members; "The Compact" and its signers, numbered as in Prince's New England Chronology, and illustrated by a facsimile of Bradford's copy; Gov. Bradford's two lists of those who came over first in 1620 and their families, illustrated by a facsimile of one page of the original; addresses of Walter Morton Howland, Dr. James Nevins Hyde, and Prof. Victor C. Alderson before the Illinois Society; and a list of reference books relating to Pilgrim history and genealogy.

The other illustrations are, portraits of Walter Morton Howland, Governor of the Society and Gov. Edward Winslow; views of "The first Pilgrim Spring", the Manor Houses and the Churches at Scrooby, and at Austerfield, the Standish House and the Standish Monument at Duxbury, "Corn Hill at Truro" and the Pabodie House at Little Compton; and facsimiles of the first page of Bradford's History and of the wills of Mary (Chilton) Winslow and Peregrine White.

An index completes this useful, attractive and substantial volume.

Book A. Records of the Town of Swansea. 1662 to 1705. Edited by Alverdo Hayward Mason. East Braintree, Mass. 1900. 4to. pp. 82. Price $1.25.

Mr. Mason has made accessible, and preserved from further loss, what remains of the vital statistics in the first volume, commonly known as "Book A", of the records of the town of Swansea, Massachusetts. More than this, he has reproduced, as nearly as type permits, the original volume, line for line. This careful preservation of the arrangement has a special value to the critical student, who does not have access to the original, which may be shown by the study of a single birth — that of Hannah Bosworth — recorded in this volume.

"Hanna the daughter of Jonathan Bosworth was born on the 5t of November 1663" the record reads at Swansea, but the town clerk's return at Plymouth, while agreeing with the day and month, differs ten years in the year, making the date 1673. The copy of Swansea records returned to Plymouth for the year 1673, signed by John Myles, Junir, Towne Clarke, (printed in Plymouth Colony Records, vol. 8, p. 48) is headed "A List of such Marriages, Beirthes, and Burialls, as were brought into the Towne Clarke of Swansey, to be recorded, from the 27th of February, 1672, to this prsent February the 27, 1673". In favor of 1673 being the year of Hannah Bosworth's birth we have the very strong evidence of this original copy, giving that date, signed by the town clerk and made out at the end of the year in question. Book A of the Swansea records, because of its peculiar alphabetical arrangement under Christian names, has been generally regarded as a compilation from earlier records, and hence less likely to be correct than the return at Plymouth.

A minute examination of the arrangement of the records in Mr. Mason's book reveals the fact that the entries of births after the latter part of 1673 appear, with few exceptions, in chronological order, while they do not before that date. This suggests that John Myles, Jr., who was then town clerk, began during the year 1673, this peculiar arrangement which has been supposed to be a compilation, and that this is his original record, and consequently equal to the copy at Plymouth as an authority. This suggestion becomes almost an absolutely certainty by the discovery that he and his successor, Nicholas Tanner, were the only clerks whose returns at Plymouth are arranged alphabetically under the Christian names. Admitting that John Myles, Jr., is the authority for both dates, the question as to the date of Hannah Bosworth's birth is easily settled by outside evidence.

In view of the fact that Jonathan Bosworth had a child (Jabez) born February 14, 1673, whose birth is omitted from the record at Plymouth, it is reasonable to suppose that Mr. Myles, in making up that return, carelessly copied the birth of Hannah instead of Jabez as the child born that year. It is worth noticing that the same item follows the birth of Hannah in both records, also that the birth of Jabez is only three months and nine days later than the date given in the return at Plymouth for Hannah's birth. This latter fact alone is sufficient to show where the error is. There is no record of the settlement of Jonathan Bosworth's estate.

According to the Swansea records, Hannah Bosworth married Nathaniel Jenks November 4, 1686. As no other Hannah Bosworth has yet been found, who could have married Nathaniel Jenks on that date, we have also the evidence of marriageable age in favor of the earlier date of birth.

Those descendants of Nathaniel Jenks who have patiently tried to solve the riddle of these conflicting dates in the hope of finding a Mayflower ancestor through Hannah Howland, mother of Hannah Bosworth, are indebted to Mr. Mason for the very valuable service rendered towards discrediting this particular record at Plymouth by the publication of these records in their original arrangement.

Every genealogist who has occasion to consult this book will be indebted to Mr. Mason for the painstaking care bestowed upon it. * * *

Francis, Goodrich, Boardman. (Mainly reprinted from the Boardman Genealogy). By William F. J. Boardman, a descendant in the Boardman–Francis–Goodrich Lines. For private circulation. Illustrations added. Hartford, 1898. 8vo, pp. 11.

This neatly printed pamphlet shows the compiler's lines of descent from Robert Francis and Ensign William Goodrich of Wethersfield, Conn. The illustrations are portraits of Daniel Francis (1770–1837), Capt. Elizur Goodrich (1730–1785), Mrs. Mary (Francis) Boardman (1803–1884), and William Boardman (1805–1887).

A Memoir of Daniel Hovey. Prepared for the Hovey Reunion, at Ipswich, Mass., August 21, 1900. By Rev. Horace Carter Hovey, D. D., of Newburyport, Mass. 8vo, pp. 11.

In this memoir Dr. Hovey has presented in an interesting manner the information relating to his ancestor brought to light by an extended study of the early records. The will of the founder of this family is printed in full and is signed "Daniel Hovey, sen'r, aged 73, and going into my 74 this 21 of March, 1691–2."

117. Ancestry of David Hardon or Haraden. In his Harding Family (Vol. IV. Genealogical Register of Ancient Puritans), Morse states that David Hardon 1715–1792, of Norton and Mansfield, was eldest son of Edward^3 Haraden (Edward^2 Edward^1) of Gloucester, and born presumably at Gloucester in 1715, since Edward^3 was married there January 13, 1713, and had children there whose births are recorded beginning 1718, among whom was William^4, born December 3, 1721, who married Sept. 10, 1750, Abigail Gray at Norton. Is there any proof that David was the son of Edward^3 and brother of William^4? H. W. H.

A NEW EDITION OF

SOLDIERS IN KING PHILIP'S WAR.

By Rev. GEORGE MADISON BODGE.

The new edition of this work is now ready; a limited number of copies being available to those who apply at once. Much new material has been added, including lists of Grantees of the "Narragansett Townships," never before published, and an appendix of twenty-five pages containing lists of the Colonial Governors of the three colonies from 1620 to 1680, with rosters of officers, and lists of soldiers not previously mentioned. No well ordered American library is complete without this book. The volume is a handsome octavo of 520 pages, with complete indexes of names and places. Edges uncut; material, printing and binding excellent. The lists of soldiers contain thousands of names.

"Mr. Bodge's handsome volume is a monument of antiquarian industry and research, in the interest rather of genealogy than of history, as being the chief concern of the legion of recent patriotic societies like that of which our author is chaplain." — The Nation.

Price, cloth, $6.00; half morocco, $7.00. Sent postpaid upon receipt of the price, by the author.

A NEW EDITION OF

SOLDIERS IN KING PHILIP'S WAR.

By Rev. GEORGE MADISON BODGE.

The new edition of this work is now ready; a limited number of copies being available to those who apply at once. Much new material has been added, including lists of Grantees of the "Narragansett Townships," never before published, and an appendix of twenty-five pages containing lists of the Colonial Governors of the three colonies from 1620 to 1680, with rosters of officers, and lists of soldiers not previously mentioned. No well ordered American library is complete without this book. The volume is a handsome octavo of 520 pages, with complete indexes of names and places. Edges uncut; material, printing and binding excellent. The lists of soldiers contain thousands of names.

"Mr. Bodge's handsome volume is a monument of antiquarian industry and research, in the interest rather of genealogy than of history, as being the chief concern of the legion of recent patriotic societies like that of which our author is chaplain." — The Nation.

Price, cloth, $6.00; half morocco, $7.00. Sent postpaid upon receipt of the price, by the author.
